OMNI PARKER HOUSE INTRODUCES FREEDOM TRAIL SUITE FOR FAMILIES
Historic Luxury Hotel Offers Colorful Kids' Suite and a One-of-a-Kind Kids' Program
Designed to Maximize Family Fun

Boston, MA (August 11, 2009) — Young travelers and their parents can now experience the new Freedom Trail Suite at America's longest continuously operating hotel. Along with the brand's irresistible Omni Sensational Kids program, the Omni Parker House now provides another great way for children and their families to travel in a unique kid-friendly style while also learning about Boston's vital role in American history.

The new Freedom Trail Suite consists of a spacious living area adjoined to a fun children's sleeping nook with bunk beds, bean bag chairs, an activity table, barrel-style nightstands, brightly colored furniture and children's colonial style costumes to enjoy while in the suite. One entire wall also features a chalkboard for drawing while another hosts a large, vibrant mural displaying the route and the landmarks of Boston's Freedom Trail which passes along the front of the Omni Parker House. Parents can relax in their own connecting room while children enjoy the suite along with their complimentary Omni Sensational Kids backpack filled with playful treasures and are treated to milk and cookies in the guest room the first night of their stay.

"The Freedom Trail Suite is an ideal way to start off a family adventure for those coming to experience our rich American history firsthand," said Mimi La Camera, president of the Freedom Trail Foundation. "The suite offer kids the chance to absorb our rich history as they play."

The suite was designed to celebrate the Omni Parker House's location on the 2.5 mile red-brick Freedom Trail that leads to 16 nationally significant museums, churches, meeting houses, burying grounds, parks and historic markers. Families can also enjoy the Freedom Trail Suite while visiting their other favorite Boston attractions such as the New England Aquarium, Museum of Science, Children's Museum, the JFK Library and Boston Duck Tours.
